

Flat File

When you need to sort out all of your office documents or just file all of your papers, you need to have a proper and easy to use system that will help you manage all of your information effectively for easy access. Dataprint has a collection of flat files that you can choose from to organize your work efficiently.

Their service is unlike any other, and you can be sure that their products are very affordable because they get all their supplies directly from big manufacturers such as Sanford and Chartpak. They have been in the industry supplying flat files and other great office supplies and furniture such as printers, desks, and graphics supplies, drafting supplies and more for over forty years so you can be sure they know what they are doing.

All office and business supplies are a crucial part of a business so fast, reliable shipping and available stock is important. What makes them such a good choice when it comes to flat files and other graphic or imaging supplies is the fact that they have low discounted prices and special clearance sales that can not be found anywhere else. Thanks to their National warehouses your deliveries will come quickly and you will be able to choose thousands of items in stock. They have a satisfaction guaranteed policy and you can enjoy hassle free 30-day returns if you are not pleased with your products.

At Dataprint you will find flat file folders to fit any size document. Most of these flat file folders come in packs of twelve at discount prices. There are also flat file cartons in packages of ten that will save you up to seventy dollars! They are specially created to keep large drawings neat and organized for easy access. A flat file folder or carton will protect your drawings or documents from getting damage or curling on the edges. It is also easy to transport these drawings with the carton because it has two handholds at the top so you can carry it.

Search for your specific flat file or other supplies by using their search engine by simply typing in the item code or the description. Your information is safe with Dataprint and once you have become a member it will make your life so much easier when you need to order items. Depending on the size of your order there is a minimum charge but this is all to ensure that your items are shipped to you safely and quickly.

Dataprint has a great online store with a variety of flat files in different colors. So whether its office furniture or drafting supplies, choose Dataprint and you will get the best rates and the highest quality products. To get free catalogs just add it to your cart or browse through the items online at www.dataprint.com.
