

Professional eskort-service

It is general knowledge, at all times and in all nationalities has been a certain group of women, which we may call the admirers of free love. In Ancient Greece such women were called hetaeras, in Japan - geishas, in France in Renaissance epoche - courtesans et cetera. Further we will use the last name exactly the courtesans. Sure, in every country and in each epoch activity of such courtesans had the distinguishing characteristics, but, at the same time, there was a lot of common for them all: most women, who had chosen such mode of living, had pretty and memorized look, well developed skills of dialog, deep knowledge in area of psychology and so on. Also, many courtesans had got quite good education - in fact they could devote some part of their time to reading and talking to well-educated people, unlike the most wives, which usually did not have any time for anything other, except for housework and upbringing of their children. In spite of the wide-spread opinion, the true courtesans could not only render services of intimate type. A veritable courtesan could be an interesting person to talk to, a delicate listener and simply a good friend. However, as it is generally known, activity of the courtesans was usually reprobated by wide public. There is no need now to deepen in the estimation of ethical side of this employment - it is possible to say only one: in any case knowingly this activity is considered one of the most ancient. It was so several thousands years ago, it was so two hundred years ago, and the situation remains the same nowadays. So, while there is demand on services of the so-called priestesses of love, until then this occupation will exist. By confirmation to that fact can serve the fact that a great popularity is used by so-called an eskort-service today. It is necessary to say that, despite certain bill of services of intimate character, which are included in the duties of employees of eskort-service, however these young women and men really can render qualitative services of escorting their clients in the case of need.
