With its emphasis on technology and cross-continental customer service, Crownhill Packaging is one of North America's most unique businesses. It maintains two major facilities located in Brampton, Ontario and Chicago, Illinois that are equipped with state of the art operational systems. By hosting cutting-edge warehouses in both countries, Crownhill Packaging is able to guarantee outstanding performance as a packaging supplier in Canada and the USA. Crownhill Packaging sets itself apart in the packaging industry by making use of the latest technological tracking systems, bringing this together with enormous warehouses and high security in order to guarantee exceptional results. Its facilities are designed for fast and efficient shipping. Customers benefit from Crownhill's exceptional locations by enjoying access to consistent stock levels, quick turnaround and an unparalleled reduction in time-to-market for their products.

Crownhill maintains complete packaging solutions capable of fulfilling the specific requirements of any business. Its logistics and distribution department, co-packing, sub-assembly, fulfillment and design centers work together to make Crownhill Packaging a true, one-stop resource for the individual packaging solutions necessary for any client. The company is equipped with a number of specialized departments that are staffed by experts in their fields. Each one of these packaging solutions is capable of giving a client exactly the results they desire. Whether a business intends to package its own products or find the right company for its design, fulfillment or inventory logistics requirements, Crownhill Packaging is the leading choice.

By stocking only the highest-quality packaging supplies, Crownhill Packaging Ltd. is able to separate itself from its competition as the only choice for wholesale product purchase. An extensive line-up of items comes together with the lowest possible prices to make Crownhill Packaging an exceptional resource for any industry buyer from medical or government facilities to consumer goods retailers. Crownhill's vast array of products encompasses all packaging supplies and includes options such as cushioned mailers, bubble wrap, and foam or corrugate, tape, shrink and stretch film. Whatever packaging a client seeks, Crownhill Packaging has the right materials at the right price.

Canada and the USA's leading packaging supplier is dedicated to giving its clients an unbeatable resource by providing helpful customer service, high-quality materials, timely delivery and competitive prices. Crownhill Packaging Ltd. wants to share its passion for packaging solutions with every customer and looks forward to helping each of its client's businesses by providing the supplies and services they need to operate at their very best.
