

If You Had Just One Wish, What Would You Really Wish For?

Every time we come across a mishap we make a wish never to face such an event again. In fact, almost more than half the time of the year we continue to ask personal wishes, hoping that someday this wish will come true. With One-Wish such miracles are just about to begin, once you step into the website you can write down and submit your innermost wish.

Now, if you are granted a wish, what can it possibly be? As per most of us, our obvious choice would be fame, money, love and peace. However, some might think differently. One such person is the creator of One-Wish, a website purely created to break the barriers of thought across five continents and bring in the lovely wishes of everyone under one roof. The creator of the website, hopes to create a platform to help all visitors submit their wishes and take a look at the wishes of other visitors too. Besides, you can even donate a certain sum to the featured donation groups shown on the home-page. With One-Wish you can donate for many good causes and set a soul happy. Visitors here are requested to open up their most desired wish by submitting a simple form or by joining his guestbook. This is an attempt made by the creator of One-Wish to analyze through the five continents, what seems to be the most crucial and significant matter to the people of the globe.

With terrorism breaking in, and the economic downturn creating havoc, we are down at our knees with grief. Whether it's the hurricane Katrina, or Tsunami, there are numerous souls around who need our help and charity for a better living. At this juncture, its time to spare some thought for the other the dwellers of this global village---the one's facing the wrath of nature, politics or economic downturn. Just as your wish gets noticed through the website, you can read through the hopes and desires of other souls across the planet. Surprisingly, you might read some wishes that are similar to yours. Adjacent to it, you might notice heart wrenching stories and sorrows of folk facing a tough time. One-Wish makes an effort to help these unhappy people and set a new example—we can make a difference to someone else's life even if we stand a thousand miles away. So, make a visit today to One-Wish and submit your innermost wish. You can even help the featured charity organizations with some monetary help. Remember, a coin you donate today, can work wonders, yes it can bring a smile to some disturbed soul tomorrow.

About the Author

Please make a wish. If you had just one-wish, what would you really wish for? my name is Michael Rigby and I would like to discover how people are feeling around our world by asking you to place your innermost wish on my website.

Source: <http://www.seoscores.com/articles>